THIRD GERMAN DRIVE IS BEGUN ON TWENTY-FIVE MILE FRONT

IMPORTANT JUNCTION POINT, AMIENS, WHICH THE FIRST GREAT GERMAN OFFENSIVE FAILED TO REACH, IS OBJECT OF GREATEST EFFORT AS THIRD DRIVE IS LAUNCHED.

PRESENT DRIVE REPRESENTS CONTINUATION OF PERSISTENT GERMAN EFFORT TO BREAK JUNCTION BETWEEN BRITISH AND FRENCH

SUCCESS OF BRITISH NAVAL RAID ON SUBMARINE BASES GROWS LARGER WITH LATER REPORTS. REPORTS OF GERMAN ULTIMATUM TO HOLLAND ARE STILL LACKING CONFIRMATION.

(By Associated Press Dispatch)

The drive on Amiens for which the Germans plunged desperately but failed to reach in the great offensive last month was resumed today.

In the effort to push toward this important junction point and allied base the enemy this morning launched a heavy attack on a front of 20 miles.

The attack represents a continuation of the persistent German effort to push in between the French and the British by striking heavy blows near their point of junction.

The Germans have been working up a strong artillery fire along virtually the whole British southern front for days, but the preliminary intensive bombardment was of comparatively short duration. The drum fire began early this morning, followed shortly by the advance of the infantry.

In making their apparently successful attack on the German submarine nests at Zeebrugge and Ostend the British fleet, assisted by the French, has given the German fleet something to ponder over. British sailors and marines who have returned from the gallant enterprise report that the gate to the lock of the Bruges canal has been blown up and the water let out into the North Sea.

British naval writers give varied estimates as to how long it will take the Germans to repair the damage done, ranging from many days to many weeks and perhaps longer.

Holland and Germany are still reported as being near the breaking point but it is not clear what the Germans have demanded from the Dutch.

A dispatch from The Hague declares nothing is known there of a reported German ultimatum threatening the occupation of Dutch ports unless certain demands are yielded. Some rumors are that the main demand concerns transport of sand and gravel, and war materials, while others suggest Germany desires certain guarantees from Holland as to treatment of Germany after the war.

BOMBARDMENT PRECEDES ATTACK

With the British Army in France, April 24.—(Associated Press Cable)—A German bombardment of the British positions on both sides of the River Lawe on the northern battle front was begun at four o'clock this morning. A large section of this front is seething, although the definite dimensions of the infantry action are not known.

GERMAN ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

London, April 24.—(Associated Press Cable)—Strong German attacks developed last night near Dranoutre, on the Flanders front, but were repulsed by French troops, the war office announces.

Heavy infantry attacks are in progress this morning in the Albert sector north of the Somme and also between the Somme and the Aisne rivers.

The French and British artillery inflicted severe losses on the Germans in the Flanders attack. On the front northwest of Albert a German attack yesterday evening was repulsed.

Goto, who has held several portfolios and is a member of the National Commission appointed last year for the discussion of Japan's foreign affairs.

The question of Japanese intervention in Siberia probably led to the withdrawal of Viscount Ishiro Motono from the foreign ministry of which he has been the head since November, 1916 when Count Terauchi formed the present cabinet.

Viscount Motono who was given his present title in July, 1916, was Japanese ambassador to Russia previous to his elevation to the foreign ministry. Since his graduation from the university of Lyons, France, he has been connected with the Japanese foreign office and has served as minister to Belgium and to France.

TELLS HIS STORY OF THE RAID

His Experience, He Said, When Raid on Submarine Base Began, Was "Great."

(Associated Press Cable.)
London, April 24.—A young marine who took part in the fighting on the Mole at Zeebrugge yesterday morning in describing his experiences to a Central News correspondent said the raid was "great."

He stated their vessels steamed into the harbor under darkness. The star shells lighted the place and the "fun started."

He told of sighting a German destroyer and ramming her amidship, and splitting her in half. The party then rushed onto the Mole and destroyed another destroyer tied along the side. The order then came to charge and they went forward, bayonetting or shooting all they came across.

"By this time we were mad and in high glee," said the marine.

"The noise of the firing mingling with the shouts of the men was terrifying. It was a slaughter."

Later the British returned to their ships safely.

Senator King sought the President's view as result of debate yesterday on a resolution by Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, asking the Senate Foreign Relations committee for immediate action on the resolution.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Eva J. Penn, chairman of the Red Cross work shop, urges all women who have out bed shirts and knitted articles to bring them to the work shop just as soon as they are completed. It is also requested that all those having out any yarn which they have had for some time will report same to the committee. It is important to have work at once instead of at the end of the month, as has been the custom.

Pictures Red Cross Abroad

"Abroad, our boys will find can- teens serving a million meals monthly to French and American soldiers; warehouses crammed with materials situated all along the French and Italian lines, at seaports, and at places where they are going to fight; institutions for the care of consumptives, for the care of children, and the re-education of maimed men; supply or- ganization reaching thirty or four hundred hospitals; gangs of workers re- storing devastated farms and villages—the whole served by a motor trans- port which employs hundreds of trucks and outside of the equipment of the army is the greatest system of its kind in the world.

"Outside of these armies, indeed, they will find that the Red Cross to- day is one of the most potent, single agencies in Europe."—Francis R. Bellamy in The Red Cross Magazine for May.

Starts A Mending Service

Soldiers and cadets, stationed at one of the American aviation camps in France, no longer have to do their own mending. 100 ENTHUSIASTIC WORKERS READY FOR THEIR PART IN DRIVE

Tuesday night 100 enthusiastic men and women, who are to take part in the big War Chest drive to be launch- ed in Fayette county May 20th, as- sembled at the Court House where they received instruction and partook of additional enthusiasm regarding the purpose of the drive.

Chairman of the Fayette County War Work Council, M. S. Daugherty, presided, and Hon. J. D. Post explain- ed the purpose of the War Chest Fund and all problems not understood were taken up and explained in detail, so that everyone present knows exactly what work is expected, and is ready to go forth and do it.

The address delivered by Mr. Post showed a clear and concise under- standing of the purpose of the drive, and that he has the proper spirit of enthusiasm that will help in carrying the campaign to a successful conclu- sion in record breaking time.

Mr. Post made it very plain that the seriousness of the war as it stands today cannot be overestimated, and that Fayette county citizens must do their part and do it nobly as civilians in helping win the war and making life more bearable for the soldiers, not only of America, but of America's allies in the struggle, tens of thous- ands of whom have recently given up their lives to hold the line of civiliza- tion intact on the western battlefield.

Tonight the Committee will go to Milledgeville for a meeting with the workers of that community. Sunday afternoon a meeting will be held at Bloomingburg, and Sunday night at Bookwalter.

MEMOIR.

Corinne Conner, youngest child of James and Frances Hudson Conner, was born at the homestead three miles south of Jeffersonville June 6, 1891, and closed her eyes to earthly scenes April 16th, 1918, aged 26 years, 10 months and 10 days.

Corinne was a most winsome and lovable child endearing herself not only to her immediate family but to neighbors, schoolmates and all with whom she came in contact. Her hap- py childhood was clouded by one great sorrow, the death of her loving father which occurred when she was eleven years old. The mother whose wise counsel did so much toward molding her character and filling her mind with high ideals lived to bless her household until two years ago.

Corinne was a faithful attendant at Sunday school and church from her earliest years, and accepted the faith of her parents as naturally as the budding flower accepts the benedic- tion of the sunshine and the dew.

During the pastorate of Rev. Mit- chell she was received into the mem- bership of the M. E. church of Jef- fersonville, to which she has ever re- mained faithful. Being especially in- terested in her Sunday school class.

She graduated from the Jefferson- ville high school with the class of 1910. Took a short normal course at Athens and spent one year at the O. W. U.

After three years of earnest appli- cation to her chosen work of teach- ing, she resigned to become the wife and helpmeet of Clarence O. Allen.

Few young people have started to make a home with brighter outlook for the future, and to them it seemed the crowning joy when a lovely baby boy came into their home a few days since. But with the advent of the babe came the mother's call to come up higher, and the sorrowing husband is left with only the tiny babe and the memory of the pure sweet life that is gone. She also leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Miss Florence Con- ner, of Chicago, and Mrs. Glendora King of Washington C. H., Ohio, and one brother, Fred, who resides at the old Conner home, and a niece, Flo- rence King Townsley, who was as close as a sister.

These, with a large circle of rela- tives and friends, are left today with saddened hearts because she is gone. "Think of her still as the same, I say, She is not dead, she is just away."

MABEL NORMAND ARRIVES WITH "DODGING A MILLION"

IT'S A GOLDWYN MYSTERY PLAY OF THRILLS AND LAUGHTER BY EDGAR SELWYN AND A. M. KENNEDY.

Mabel Normand will make her first appearance as a star in Goldwyn Pictures in "Dodging a Million," a mystery drama written by Edgar Selwyn, author of "Nearly Married," in which Madge Kennedy stars on the screen, and A. M. Kennedy. Miss Normand is an international favorite in filmdom and her return to motion picture theaters after a long absence will be in the nature of a genuine sensation when "Dodging a Million" is shown at the Colonial Theater, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Dodging a Million" is described as a novel mystery play of love, thrills and laughter. It was written especial- ly to fit the charm and artistic capa- bilities of Miss Normand, and is said to present her as an actress of unsus- pected emotional range. Her un- doubted good looks and natural vi- vacity should combine to give the new film a wide popularity.

THE STORY.

Arabella Flynn (Mabel Normand), who dresses the models in Raquin's fashionable modiste shop, decides that she shall see a little life as well as the models, so she borrows some ex- pensive garments and goes to the smartest restaurant in town. She is there only long enough to meet Jack Forsythe, son of the millionaire cor- set king, who can get no girl to con- sider him seriously because he re- minds her of the most intimate thing in her wardrobe, when she is discov- ered by the boss and the chief model, who also are out for the evening.

She flees in a taxi for which she pays with the last money in her purse, to her furnished room; but when she arrives at the house the landlady won't let her in because she is sus- picious of her fine clothes. But at more. The second trunk holds a daz- zling array of jewels; but she is told that these really are only paste imi- tations of the real collection. Here again she is told to buy more. The third trunk has something but some bot- tles; and in them is what the aunt says is a mysterious poison which she may need if she does not find the love of a true man.

In the meantime, Arabella has been following instructions, buying clothes and jewels, and developing a real romance with Jack Forsythe. The lawyer's clerk who sent her the $800 check learns that he made a mistake, and rushes to Arabella's hotel to re- cover it. In his anxiety he tells his predicament to the hotel clerk, and at once there is a rush of courtiers and merchants to collect their bills. Arabella goes to return her jewels to the jeweler and finds them gone. She thinks Don Rodriguez must have been using her as a dupe. Worst of all, Jack Forsythe believes her a swindler. In despair she drinks poison from the third trunk.

Then the stupid lawyer's clerk learns that his error was not in giving Arabella the check, but in giving her so small an amount. It should have been for $800,000. And Don Rodri- gues appears in time to take the jew- els from a wall safe where he has placed them for safe keeping, although he puts his arms about Arabella in a manner that indicates to Jack that she is untrue to him.

But Arabella has taken the poison.

and, according to her aunt's letter, has but three hours to live. Jack rushes to a great laboratory and bids the chemist there to find an anti- dote.

Poetry For Today

SPRING AT VERDUN
 Tell me, has Spring come to Verdun,
 In the olden, Eden way—
 Has Spring dawned on valiant Verdun,
 Where the hills with death are gray?
 Are her footsteps on the mountain,
 Where 'twas said, "They shall not pass!"
 When the air was thick with fire,
 And the dead were on the grass?
 Tell me, how comes Spring to Verdun?
 To the mating call of birds,
 To the brook's exultant murmur,
 And the homing low of herds?
 Do wee gentle violets blossom
 In the craters, rough and drear,
 Do the harebells ring in chorus
 For the dead who cannot hear?
 Over Verdun, valiant Verdun,
 Where the brute guns mouthed their fill,
 And their growling rolled absorbent,
 Round each glory-fenced hill,
 Has the greenest crept, triumphant,
 Has the tenderness of Spring
 Touched the torn and broken Verdun
 With the healing of her wing?
 What of Gallant, gallant Verdun,
 Now that Spring is in the air,
 And the fecund Earth is quick'ning
 Into beauty everywhere?
 Do the poppies blow in splendor
 In proud France, the matchless land,
 Nor forget the fields of silence
 Where the little crosses stand?

There never was a prettier birthday party nor one at which children spent a happier afternoon than Edgar Earl Barnett's celebration of his fifth birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Barnett Tuesday.

Fifty little girls and boys were greeted by the handsome little host, who led off in a merry round of games and set a pace some of the tots found it hard to follow.

The rooms had been cleared of furniture as much as possible and the entire house was turned over to the small folk.

A peanut hunt was the chief joy, the prize won by Thomas Craig.

After a royal good time and several hours of play the children were served with a dainty collation of the delicacies they best like.

The birthday table was a picture with five pink candles blazing in a center candelabra and at either end an exquisite water garden, filled with pink and white snap dragons and narcissi.

The favors were cunning red white and blue parasols for the girls and "Uncle Sam" hats for the boys. Then each child had a "snapper" and there was fun galore in cracking them and finding the toy inside.

Although the invitations had given no intimation that it was a birthday party, the guests "became wise" and showered the young host, who is a special favorite with his youthful friends, with gifts.

Mrs. Barnett was assisted in entertaining by the two grand mothers, Mrs. N. S. Barnett and Mrs. E. A. McCoy.

Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton entertained the Clonians Tuesday afternoon with the spontaneous hospitality which always characterizes her affairs.

The presence of three honor guests two of them Junior Clonians, Mrs. W. J. Galvin, of Wilmington, Mrs. John Zollinger, of Piqua, and Mrs. George Kerr, who accompanied Lt. Kerr up from Camp Sherman, added greatly to the afternoon's pleasure and the hours passed all too rapidly in the delightful intimacy of club interests, shared so completely by both Senior and Junior Clonians.

The hostess served a delicious luncheon, of dainty appointments.

LARGE CROWD AND GOOD PRICES ARE AUCTION FEATURES

With a large crowd in attendance, bidding spirited and virtually all goods offered bringing top prices, the East Wayne Township War Chest auction was in full swing this afternoon, with every indication of an overwhelming success regardless of the rain which began falling shortly after 1:30 o'clock, and compelled many persons to seek shelter in the Cisco centralized school building, where the big auction is being held.

When the eager auctioneers took the stand at the appointed hour, there was a large crowd of bidders ready for almost every article coming under the hammer, and there were few times when the auctioneers waited more than a few moments for a bid.

By shortly after the noon hour the crowd had greatly increased in size, dozens of persons from this city being numbered in the ranks gathered about the auctioneers' stand.

It was quite evident from the beginning that the crowd had caught the spirit of the thing, and their bids were, for the most part, liberal.

The smaller articles were among the first to be disposed of, and the live stock and more expensive goods were to pass under the hammer later in the afternoon.

The women of the community served a wonderful dinner and although they charged only a "free will offering" they netted a very snug sum for their efforts, all of which will go into the war chest with the other proceeds of the sale.

CITY SCHOOLS MAKE SPLENDID PROGRESS IN WAR STAMP SALES

The total per pupil enrolled is now $6.69.

HOSPITAL LIBRARIES ALREADY A SUCCESS

Although libraries were established in the cantonment hospitals of the country by the American Library Association only a short time ago, favorable reports of the success and use of the libraries are already being received by Miss Caroline Webster, of the Library of Congress, Washington D. C., who is in charge of this branch of library war service. One hospital librarian has written her:

"I was going through the wards and had two books left. One of the men picked them up and then handed them back. 'I don't like books written by women.' But F. Marion Crawford isn't a woman.' 'Well, if she isn't a woman, what is she?' On being assured of 'her' sex, he took the book and stilled back to enjoy it."

"Yesterday a man said, 'Give me a real love story.' All the men in the ward laughed, but when I went to their beds most of them said, 'I want one like that other fellow asked for.' 'I visited the officers' ward for the first time today. Tonight the nurse said to me: 'You don't know how much good your visit did the men. Each one had a book this afternoon, and each one had something to say about it.'"

"The other day a man declined a book, and I went to the next bed. 'What is this one about?' the occupant inquired. It happened to be 'Rambo'. I replied, offhand, 'Oh, it's about a girl who married a man without his having anything to say about it.' 'That will do; I'll take it.' Then the first man called out, 'Let me read it first.' So I left them wrangling good-naturedly over the book."

Up to the present time there are hospital libraries, with trained librarians in charge, at six canton-

PROPOSE CHANGE IN BANKING LAW

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, April 24.—Important changes in the federal reserve bank laws are pending in the House. They deal with election of directors, permission for national banks to act as fiduciary capacities, authority to issue new denominations of federal reserve notes, reserve requirements and other matters vitally affecting banking operations.

All these changes are proposed in a bill based on administration recommendations and have been favorably reported from the Banking and Currency committee by Representative Phelan, of Massachusetts. Under the provision of the bill the present law is modified so as to leave to the discretion of the Federal Reserve board the grouping of the member banks of each district into three general groups or divisions without the present requirement that each group shall contain as nearly as may be one-third of the aggregate number of the banks of the district. The purpose of this modification is to make as secure as possible a fair and equal representation on the directorate of the federal reserve banks for each group of banks, the large medium-sized and small banks.

It also proposed to replace the present ballot method of electing a district reserve director, by a provision permitting each member bank, to authorize its president or other officer to cast its vote in such elections. The aim is to obtain wider participation by the banks in the election of federal reserve bank directors.

FAYETTE COUNTY'S SHEEP ONE-SIXTH OF TOTAL IN 1868

interesting Statistics Regarding Amount of Sheep in County and State as Compared With Figures of Other Dates—What the New Dog License Law Is Doing.

Statistics issued on the dog licenses and sheep claims, issued by the State Auditor, are of particular interest at the present time, in this county as well as in the state at large.

In Fayette county under the new law the amount of license fees total $2,853, while last year the total under the old law was $1,666.38, and the amount unpaid was $239. Last year in Fayette county 126 sheep were killed by dogs, and the sum of $634.15 was paid out for the sheep.

In 1868 the number of sheep in Fayette county was 64,042. In 1885 this number had decreased to 29,025 and in 1900 a further decrease to 14,494 was recorded, while last year the number had dropped down to 7,151, as shown by the tax returns. However, this last figure is believed to be much lower than the present number of sheep in Fayette county, although in all probability the number of sheep at present is about one-sixth the number in the county in 1868 when vast areas of the county were not under intensive cultivation and sheep were allowed to roam over tracts of land hundreds of acres in extent.

For the state of Ohio the number of sheep has shown almost as startling a decrease since 1868, when the number was 7,688,845, while last year it had dropped to only 1,547,398. The amount of money received under the new dog license law, throughout the state, had reached $344,175.90 up to April 1st, this year, as compared with only $234,338.86 last year, when $44,199.50 of the amount was never paid into the treasury. The number of sheep killed by dogs in the state last year reached a total of 25,387.

With the rapid decline in the number of sheep, and the large numbers killed by dogs, there is a sound reason for the new dog license law which is doing much toward ridding the state of worthless dogs, and protecting the sheep as never before.

FAIRFIELD BOYS WILL STOP HERE

Fifty Fairfield county draftees will stop in this city Saturday to wait for the B. & O. train to carry them to Chillicothe. Regarding the trip of the men and the stop over here the Lancaster Eagle says:

"The local boys who will leave April 30th for Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, will be provided with luncheon boxes by the local chapter of the Red Cross. The executive committee of the Red Cross is acting under instructions from the National Red Cross and are arranging to have the luncheon boxes ready to give to each one of the draftees just before they leave Lancaster. They are to go via Washington C. H., and have to stop over at supper time, when the "canteen system" of the Red Cross will be pressed into service."

29 MEN READY TO DEPART SATURDAY

The men notified to appear for induction into military service Saturday of this week will be on hands at the appointed hour, virtually all of them having notified the Local Board of the receipt of the order and are preparing for their departure on the nine o'clock train Saturday morning.

Thirty-two men have been ordered to report, and all of them will be in the military service from four o'clock Friday after noon. Only 29 of the 32 men will be sent.

Within a few days the Local Board will announce the names of the six men who will form the contingent to enter military training early in May. It is expected that another heavy contingent will be called late in May.

"DODGING A MILLION" IS NEST OF SURPRISES

If ever there was a play shown on the screen that contained more thrilling mystery than Mabel Normand's first Goldwyn starring vehicle, "Dodging a Million," the authors, Edgar Selwyn and A. M. Kennedy would like to know it.

"Dodging a Million," which is to be shown at the Colonial Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday has neither murders nor detectives to create suspense; but by a clever unfolding of a novel plot the interest is kept at high tension to the very end.

Every thing is handled from the viewpoint of the heroine, Arabella Flynn, who is an humble dresser in a fashionable modiste shop. The spectator shares her wonder at the mysterious things that happen to her, beginning with the appearance of a strange young man who asks her the names of her mother, father, grandmother and grandfather and then hurries off, and learns the complete facts only as fast as they are explained to her.

Events come thick and fast. An express man delivers three trunks to her, numbered consecutively, and a letter containing a check for $800 and instructions to open the trunks one at a time on consecutive days. The first trunk contains beautiful clothes of the Civil War period; the second is filled with jewels, and the third holds bottles of curious poison that brings death painlessly and instantaneously in three hours after taking.

To complicate matters a mysterious, but always polite Spaniard with unlimited funds, suddenly appears near her and guides her in the purchase of more clothes and jewels, and otherwise helps her to live the life of a veritable princess.

Probably in all the screen career of Mabel Normand she has not had a part that has been as cleverly adapted to her charming personality, or that exhibits in succession the many phases of her histrionic ability. "Dodging a Million" is not the adaptation of a stage play, but was especially written by Edgar Selwyn, the celebrated dramatist and author of "Nearly Married," in collaboration with A. M. Kennedy, to meet the requirements of the little star. advt.
